

Due to the fact the we do live in America, we as consumers have the right to choose. The NAB, is attempting to limit our rights. If we select to PAY for a service that will give us local content, the US Government, and our elected people of Congress should support our right to decide. XM and Sirius are true pioneers. If the consumer wants to pay for a service the enables us to get local content via satelite, the NAB should have to deal with it. I find that using XM while I am traveling is very helpful in allowing me to coordinate the traffic reports with Navigation and find the quickest way to my destination.
